Giving that's a step in the right direction

"I love shopping with gift cards because I can send gifts to family and friends in minutes. Purchase gift cards for holidays gifts or birthday presents. Pay for meals while out and about, even if I don't have my wallet with me. Send eGift cards to the kids when they are shopping with friends, eating out, or picking up dinner to eat at home. And all the while I'm earning money for my kids' favorite sport—figure skating!"

Your teacher works hard. They put in long hours of lesson planning, teaching, and grading, making a difference not only in the classroom but also in shaping your child's future. Show your appreciation this year with the gift that keeps on giving.

3 ways to thank your teacher

Create a custom gift that's as special as they are

Your child can use the writing skills learned in school this year to pen a heartfelt note and create a meaningful gift using favorite class photos from the year.

Help your teacher relax this summer

Your teacher deserves a break. Make their summer even more enjoyable with gift cards to read a good book, catch a movie, or grab coffee with a friend. Or, send a basket with a handful of goodies.

Replenish classroom supplies for next year

Help your teacher get a head start on next year's needs by gifting pencils, tissues and hand sanitizer, or books for the classroom library. Another option is to buy gift cards, get your earnings, and give your teacher the gift card so they can decide what to buy for their classroom.
